Ensure that Captivate 11.0.0.243 or 11.0.1.266 or 11.5.0.476 or 11.5.1.499 build version is already installed. Open Adobe Captivate, and choose Help > Check for .Q: Installing pkg-config in Ubuntu 19.10 I am trying to install a third-party library that requires pkg-config, and I'm having a hard time. The site of the library is I run `sudo apt install pkg-config`, and it shows that it has been installed, but when I try to install their library with `sudo apt install alchemy-library`, it says: The following packages have unmet dependencies: alchemy-library : Depends: pkg-config Depends: libc6 (>= 2.17) but 2.24-5ubuntu3 is installed What do I do? I don't really understand apt, but I know that if I can install pkg-config, then I can install alchemy-library. I appreciate any help I can get. (This question is similar to this, but if you view that, you'll see it's not clear whether I need to install pkg-config or not in this case.) A: You can install alchemy-library manually using the deb file you find in its github repository. Alternatively, you can try compiling it from source. On Ubuntu 19.10 you should be able to use the latest cmake: `sudo apt-get install cmake` `wget tar xf cmake-3.11.1.tar.gz` `cd cmake-3.11.1` `./configure` `make` `sudo make install` If that works you should be able to use the alchemy library compiled from source. Q: Summation -  $a_1, a_2, a_3, \dots, a_{\infty}$ . Is  $a_2 + a_1 + a_3 + \dots$  ever positive? Let  $a_1$
